Attention all students and staff! Tomorrow is the very first choir concert of the year! Come check out our concert tomorrow night at 7pm on the stage. Our members will share with you our achievements and plans for the year as well as some festive music. This is also an opportunity to see what the start of the year looks like for our choir and decide if you want to become a member in January. January is the last recruiting week of the year and the last chance to join! So remember, come cheer on almost 60 of your friends and enjoy a bit of festive fun tomorrow at 7pm! See you there.
